A102473 -- Abinadab Israel et al. v. Bill Manuel Fernandez et al.

By the Court: Appellants purport to appeal from the trial court's March 12, 2003 Order on Motion to Enforce Settlement. (See code Civ. Proc., § 664.6.) The challenged ruling granted respondents' motion to enforce as to the adult appellants, Abinadab Israel and Derica Jordan, and, accordingly, is appealable as to those appellants. (See Viejo Bancorp, Inc. v. Wood (1989) 217 Cal.App.3d 200, 205.) The challenged ruling did not grant respondents' motion to enforce as to the minor appellants, Yahcarah Grant, Electra Israel, and Chephzebah Israel (all of whom are appearing through their guardian ad litem Malkia Williams), and, hence, is not appealable as to those appellants. Therefore, the above-referenced appeal is dismissed as to appellants Yahcarah Grant, Electra Israel, and Chephzebah Israel only. Jones, P.J.

Division One

A099750 -- In re Desire H., a Person Coming Under the Juvenile Court Law. Contra Costa County Social Service Department v. Carolyn H., et al.

The order terminating appellants' parental rights is reversed for the sole and limited purpose of enabling a remand to the juvenile court for the filing of the notices and return receipts, and for the court to determine from that record whether the ICWA notice was sufficient. If the court makes that determination, the order terminating parental rights is reinstated. If the court finds that notice was insufficient, the court must ensure that sufficient notice is made. And as noted, if from tribal notice the court should determine that Desire is an Indian child covered by ICWA, the court must proceed accordingly. This remand, by itself, shall have no effect on any issue regarding the custody of Desire, or any issue in the proceedings other than the sufficiency of notice. We direct the juvenile court to comply with this remand within the earliest possible time. Marchiano, P.J. I Concur: Stein, J. (See dissenting opinion by Swager, J.) (Not for Publication.)
